

Brockman Agency
A Financial Services Broker

The Brockman Agency provides real financial options when considering equipment purchases in today's uncertain Business environment. By speaking with one of our representatives you can get informed of the facts and options available to you before you make the purchase.

Leasing provides easy financing saving you both time and money and reserving current credit lines.

Leasing the equipment your business needs can save you out of pocket cost and make good tax sense while helping your balance sheet. Most traditional loan sources don't finance stand-alone equipment purchases but we can finance all the equipment your business needs. We work with equipment dealers and vendors nationwide to finance their business clients, we also work with business owners of every type to secure the purchase of equipment.

If you're a Dealer-Vendor of business equipment, let the Brockman Agency provide you with an in-house financing source that aids your clients in their purchase from you.
